

Allergens (contains: Yes or No)

Products	Milk	Egg	Soybean	Wheat	Peanut	Tree Nut {almonds, Brazil nuts, cashews, hazelnuts (filberts), macadamias, pecans, pine nuts (pignolias), pistachios, walnuts}}	Fish (Seafood)	Shellfish / Crustaceans (Seafood)	Mustard	Sesame	Sulphites
Oils Mazola® Corn Canola RightBlend® Vegetable	No	No	Corn, Canola, RightBlend®- No Vegetable - Highly refined oil only *	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No
Sprays Mazola® cooking	No	No	Yes	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No
Corn Starch Fleischmann's® Canada® Chefmate®	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	< 10 ppm
Baking Powder Fleischmann's®	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No
Yeast Fleischmann's® - Traditional Quick Rise Bread Machine Pizza	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No
Corn Syrups BeeHive® Crown® Crown® Lily White®	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	No	< 10 ppm

* Highly refined (degummed, neutralized, bleached and deodorized) oils derived from food allergen sources are generally not subject to the enhanced allergen labeling requirements as the refining process has been determined to remove the allergenic protein from the oil. The very low levels of protein present within highly refined oil are not considered, based on the available science, to pose a risk to the health of individuals with food allergies.

<http://www.hc-sc.gc.ca/fn-an/label-etiquet/allergen/oil-refined-huile-raffinees-eng.php>

Tree Nuts of concern, as per Health Canada: almonds, Brazil nuts, cashews, hazelnuts (filberts), macadamias, pecans, pine nuts (pignolias), pistachios, walnuts). Coconut is not considered a tree nut for the purpose of food allergen labeling in Canada, however some people have reacted to coconut.

http://www.hc-sc.gc.ca/fn-an/pubs/securit/2012-allergen_treenuts-noix/index-eng.php

